

DR. MASOUD SAMAN

DALLASFACEDOC
FACIAL PLASTIC SURGEON
& RHINOPLASTY SPECIALIST

With a minimally-invasive approach, Dr. Masoud Saman offers clients a bespoke experience and exquisite cosmetic results. You may know him around town as DALLASFACEDOC™. A familiar moniker in Highland Park social circles, it's the brainchild and atelier of the dual board-certified facial plastic and reconstructive surgeon, Dr. Saman. Armed with a skill set developed from high acuity surgery and a background in art, he combines surgical excellence with aesthetic artistry to deliver masterful results. "I have appreciated facial beauty and its intricate anatomy—shadows and highlights, curves and troughs, angles and textures—for as long as I can remember, long before becoming a facial plastic surgeon," he shares. "My entire concept and work philosophy is rooted in artistic expression." Experienced with complex craniofacial defects

My entire concept and work philosophy is rooted in artistic expression.

related to advanced cancer, ballistic trauma, nerve injury, and congenital anomalies, technical precision and finesse is the means to express his vision. His edge? Creating mutual trust. "I tell patients that I will give them all the knowledge in my head, all the care in my heart and the skills of my hands toward achieving the results they want," says Saman. Up next? Teaching a rhinoplasty course in France and traveling around Europe, bringing back the latest tips and tricks as souvenirs.
